Work experience

IOS Developer · Freelance · Chișinău
June 2024 - Present · 11 months

I work as a freelancer, taking on projects of varying complexity—from fixing minor bugs to building applications from scratch. I have experience working with diverse technologies and tools, as well as the ability to adapt to new tasks and industry trends. The advantages of freelancing for me include a flexible work schedule and the ability to choose interesting projects that align with my professional interests. At the same time, I understand the importance of finding new clients and meeting deadlines, which fosters discipline and management skills.
